Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 30 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming clear and frosty overnight, cold with some sunshine tomorrow.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any rain, sleet or snow in the south will soon die out to leave a dry night with cloud breaking to give some long clear spells. A widespread frost and some icy patches developing as winds fall light. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Sunday:
A cold but dry day across the region after a frosty start. Some sunny spells, although with sunshine increasingly hazy through the afternoon as cloud increases from the southwest. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Patchy light rain or snow Monday morning soon easing. Tuesday becoming milder, after a spell of rain, preceded by snow in places. Wednesday mostly cloudy with a few showers.
